

The Dominican Republic

The Dominican Republic is the most geographically diverse island in the Caribbean. It was the first permanent European settlement in the Americas with Santo Domingo the oldest city.

Flamingo

During our travels, we saw photographed 25 of the endemic species in the Republic. Including, the Ridgway's Hawk, one of the world's rarest birds.

Hispanolan Lizard Cuckooipsum

The Dominican Republic shares the island of Hispaniola with Haiti, a most unfortunate neighbor.
